

Lanna Wedding Ceremony Mandarin Oriental Dhara Dhevi, Chiang Mai

A Fairytale wedding in the land of enhancement at Mandarin Oriental Dhara Dhevi, Chiang Mai with a Traditional Northern Thai Wedding, the most spectacular Lanna romantic. A wedding ceremony in Chiang Mai, a land of dramatic beauty and ancient legends it's an experience, the memory of which you will treasure forever. Live Ceremony" A couple put foods in the bowls of Buddhist priests in the beginning of the day and then go back to the Villa, to make up and get dress.

At the auspicious time, the groom's procession be prepared and then move to the bride's place. There will be a group of ladies holding the flower petals bowl perform a blessing dance following by musicians playing harps and palanquin of Bai Sri that gives shade to the groom. The nice and sweet music will make the groom's procession cheerful.

The women in the procession carry sugar and sugarcane water which means the sweetness of love. The gong announces the auspicious event and also gives an honor to the bride. When the groom's procession arrive the bride's place, the young relatives of the bride come out to block the entrance with is called "Silver and Golden Gate" The groom has to prepare envelopes with some money inside for the entrance fee.

After this done, the groom meets the bride and then both of them go to the ceremony hall. At the ceremony, the Master offer blessing words to bring back the morals to the couple's bodies. The master uses the Bai Sri for this ceremony. After the ceremony, the family members and friends tie white thin blessed strings at the couple's wrists wishing them to live a happily long married life. The couple returns to the villa and wait for having a party dinner with all of guest.

For more information, please contact our Sales Office directly at Mandarin Oriental Dhara Dhevi, Chiang Mai

51/4 Moo 1 Chiang Mai-Sankampaeng Road, T. Tasala, A. Muang, Chiang Mai 50000 Thailand

Telephone : 66 053 888 888 / Facsimile : 66 053 888 928

E-mail : suthathy@mohg.com